

Stephen G. Mehallis

President

The Harry T. Mangurian Jr. Foundation

Stephen “Steve” G. Mehallis presently serves as chairman and president of The Harry T. Mangurian, Jr. Foundation, a Fort Lauderdale-based private foundation supporting medical, educational and environmental causes both nationally and internationally.

Upon graduating from St. Clairsville High School in Ohio, he served in the U.S. Navy from 1954-1957, then attended The Ohio State University from 1957-1961, graduating with a bachelor’s degree in business administration. At Ohio State, he was a member of the Beta Alpha Psi national accounting honorary and the Phi Kappa Sigma social fraternity. Upon graduating, Mehallis joined the accounting firm of Price Waterhouse & Co. and served in their Pittsburgh and Washington, D.C. offices. In 1972, he accepted the position of chief financial officer with Drexel Investments, Inc., a residential construction and development firm company. He also served as CFO of several related entities, including the Buffalo Braves and Boston Celtics of the NBA, the Memphis Rogues of the North American Soccer League and Mockingbird Farm in Ocala, Florida, which became one of the largest thoroughbred breeding farms in North America from 1972 through 2001.

Mehallis served as president of the Ohio State University Alumni Club of Broward County, Florida during the early years of its existence. He has conducted sports management seminars at Florida Atlantic University in Boca Raton, Florida, and at Ohio State in connection with the Executive Luncheon Series at Fisher. He was recently appointed to the South Florida Leadership Council of the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society, and is also a member of the Cancer Center Advocacy Committee at Holy Cross Hospital in Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

Mehallis and his wife, Martie, have two daughters, Michelle and Meagan, and five grandsons.
